

THE ML-ARD SONG
No Money to Solve It, but The Rocks are Free
by Kevin Morin
(to the tune of “Money for Nothing”, by Dire Straits)

Now look at those Geos, that's the way they do it.
They're staring hard at that ARD.
That ain't workin', that's the way they do it.
No money to solve it, but the rocks are free.

Now that ain't workin', that's the way they do it.
Let me tell you, those Geos are numb.
Maybe got a blister on their little finger,
Or dissolved an entire thumb.

We got to run acid base accounts, and got to check mineralogy,
We got to run those kinetic cells, we must predict that ARD.

See the trembling Geo with the sad blank stare?
Yeah buddy that's his own fear.
He's got himself some bad ARD.
Yeah that Geo has a real big scare.

We got to run acid base accounts, and got to check mineralogy,
We got to run those kinetic cells, we must predict that ARD.

We got to run acid base accounts, and got to check mineralogy,
We got to run those kinetic cells, we must predict that ARD.

I should of learned to engineer.
I should of moved into mutual funds.
Look at that ARD: it's running here and there.
Man, this sure ain't fun.

Over there, what's that?
ML problems over there?
The freakin' drainage is flowing everywhere!

That ain't workin', that's the way they do it.
No money to solve it, but the rocks are free.

We got to run acid base accounts, and got to check mineralogy,
We got to run those kinetic cells, we must predict that ARD.

Listen here

Now that ain't workin', that's the way to do it.
Everyone's staring at the ARD.

That ain't workin', that's the way they do it.
No money to solve it, and the rocks are free.

No money to solve it, rocks for free.

No money to solve it, rocks for free.

Look at that – look at that!

I want no ...
I want no ...
I want no ARD!

I want no ...
I want no ...
I want no ARD!

No money to solve it, rocks for free.
